

The background of the page is a light, textured surface, possibly paper or fabric, with a subtle pattern of fine lines. Overlaid on this are several large, stylized, swirling lines that resemble smoke or decorative flourishes. Scattered throughout the page are numerous small, geometric shapes: circles, squares, and triangles, some of which are solid black and others are white with black outlines, giving the impression of confetti or small decorative elements.

From the very beginning we have been told that our college years are the best years of our lives. As freshmen, we begin our new journey only to find ourselves at the bottom of the totem pole again. We look forward to the next four years with anxious feelings; yet we are excited. In our sophomore year we gain a little more insight into what college is all about. Although we have learned some discipline for ourselves, we still are stuck with the midnight curfew.

As juniors we begin to take things much more seriously when our schedules become filled with required classes for our chosen majors. Too soon, however, our senior year creeps up on us, and the future quickly becomes a reality. By this time plans are being made for careers or, perhaps, for families or more school. We begin to wonder where the time went as we look back at how much we have changed since the day we moved into the dorm for the first time.

We hope that we all have made some memories along the way--memories that will stay with us forever and will always be worth celebrating. As we look back years from now, these memories will indeed have made these the best years of our lives.

Retiring Faculty

Dr. William J. Strickland and Ms. Nancy Hazlewood, two long-time faculty members, have announced they will retire from Trevecca at the end of the spring 1998 semester.

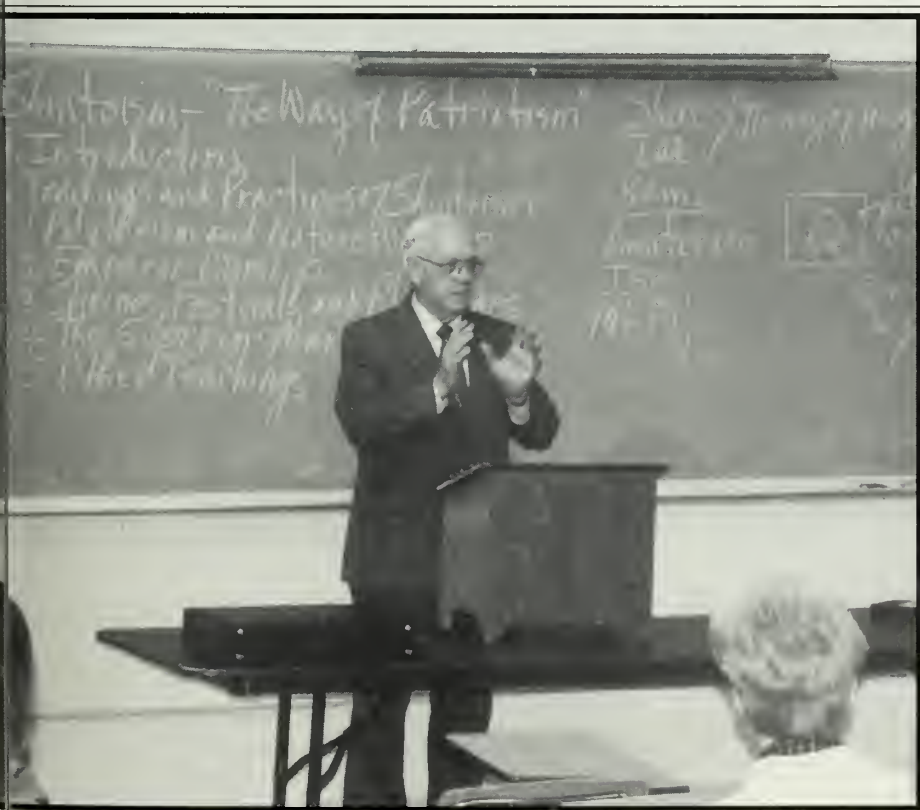

Nancy Hazlewood has been an instructor in Trevecca's Teacher Education Program since 1978. Prior to coming to Trevecca, she taught at East Tennessee State University for ten years and held several positions in public schools.

Dr. Strickland brings to a close thirty-six years of outstanding service to Trevecca as both a faculty member and an administrator. For seventeen years, from 1974-1991 and longer than any other person, he held the position of academic dean. Prior to that term, he also served one year as dean of students. Dr. Strickland is co-author of the Centennial celebration book on J. O. McClurkan.

NANCY HAZLEWOOD, professor of education, expresses her appreciation at her retirement recognition.

"It is people like Dr. Strickland and Nancy Hazlewood who have made Trevecca the quality academic institution that it is today. We will be forever indebted for their contribution to our lives." -Dr. Steve Pusey, Vice-President for Academic Affairs

A "New" Face to Nashville

This year Trevecca presented a new "face" to the City of Nashville with a new $2.2-million-dollar entrance. The new entry included walls of limestone and granite, a welcome center/information booth, a new driveway, new street lights, and new perimeter fencing. With this new entry, Trevecca is much more visible in the surrounding community.

After the purchase of Cook 'n Good and TCI Tire Center, and the relocation of Car Bazaar, the new entryway was finally under construction in spring 1997. It came to completion in spring 1998.

The President's Home, Wakefield Fine Arts Building, and McClurkan Hall can be found in the background of this picture of the old entryway.

This entryway was in use from 1947 to 1965. It has been placed between McClurkan Hall and Greathouse Science Building. Construction on Greathouse Science Building had begun in this picture.

Constructed in 1965, this entryway was in use until 1998, when it was moved to a hillside at the baseball field.

To our teacher and our friend.

We thank you for answering God's call in your life to teach at Trevecca. You have influenced our lives as our professor and, in many cases, as our advisor. But to all of us, you have been our friend, and we thank you for your service to the Trevecca community. It is with great pleasure and love that we dedicate the 1998 Darda to

My Symphony

To live content with small means;
 To seek elegance rather than luxury,
 And refinement rather than fashion;
 To be worthy, not respectable;
 And wealthy, not rich;
 To study hard, think quietly, talk gently, act frankly;
 To listen to stars and birds,
 To babes and sages, with open heart,
 To bear all cheerfully, do all bravely, await occasions, hurry never.
 ...To let the spiritual, unbidden and unconscious,
 grow up through the common.
 This is to be my symphony.

-- Wm. Henry Channing

stands old Trevecca

learning as the years go by.
We will honor and
we'll love her;
we will stand for
right.
Always carry high

hail to the purple

Fellow students

As I complete the 1997-1998 Darda, I look back on this year. When elections took place and I decided to run for Darda Editor, I had no idea what was in store for me. Because my position was not initiated until September, the yearbook had gotten a late start. Boy, did I hit it full speed!

Throughout the year we hit a few potholes: Our staff was few in number, so the pace at which the yearbook was completed was a little slow, and our computer had a mind of its own, which conflicted with getting the work done. I also planned a wedding at the same time. But, despite the setbacks, I have grown to cherish the friendships and good times I have experienced as editor. I have counted it a privilege to have served you, the Trevecca community, as your yearbook editor.

This book would not have been possible without the support and help from many people. I would like to thank those faculty and administration who were so encouraging throughout the year. It meant so much to know that you were behind me.

Jennifer Maynard, you are my hero! Thank you for all the hours that you dedicated to this annual. You contributed many creative ideas and wonderful layouts, and you always were great to give your opinion on something, which I valued highly. Without you this book would not have come together. You are a wonderful friend, and I truly appreciate you.

Mrs. Greathouse, thank you for helping me through this year. Your advice and wisdom were an asset to this book. Thank you for your help in the nitty-gritty stuff (editing, captions, getting me a new computer for next year).

Robin Morris and Jennifer Thornton, thanks for all the running around you did for me! Robin Hess-thank you for all of your help and for your understanding. Elaine Kaib, you are the best roomie ever! Thanks for putting up with all of my late nights and stress messes, and thank you most of all for your friendship. Student Government, thank you for your support. Jenny Davis, thank you for being there for me many times. To all those who helped write captions and who contributed photos, you are greatly appreciated. Thank you to the Trevecca community!

My best friend, David-thank you for being such a wonderful fiancé. I am so blessed to have you in my life! You have poured your love, support, and encouragement out to me so many times this year. Thank you for being a man of God. I love you.

Thanks, Mother and Daddy, for supporting my interest in the yearbook. Thank you Granny, Papa, Scott, Vicki, and Drew. You have been a wonderful encouragement. I love you all!

Finally, I thank God for giving me strength and love. He is truly the God of comfort and peace. He is my shepherd through each day. Without Him, life would be impossible.

May you continue to "celebrate the memories"!
